

Job Opening: Director/Senior Director/Vice President Communications

Description

AAP is accepting expressions of interest for the position of Director/Senior Director/Vice President of Communications (final job title to be determined commensurate with experience). As the trade organization for the U.S. publishing industry, AAP is at the forefront of a wide range of legal and public policy developments that drive progress in the twenty-first century, including copyright protections for publishers and authors, competitive online markets, public-private collaborations, and freedom of expression. AAP delivers high quality advocacy for its member companies, while providing a stimulating but balanced work environment for its small team.

This position is responsible for advancing the interests of the U.S. publishing industry and AAP's membership by helping to plan and execute sophisticated communications strategies in support of the leadership agenda of AAP's CEO. The Director/Senior Director/Vice President of Communications will support AAP senior staff working on policy matters that impact the American publishing industry in the United States and abroad. This position reports to the Senior Vice President of Communications, and is based in Washington, DC.

Experience

Interested candidates should have three to eight years of experience in Corporate Communications either at a firm or in-house. Experience in supporting advocacy, particularly as it relates to Intellectual Property, is preferred, but not essential. Salary will be commensurate with experience.

About AAP

AAP represents the leading book, journal, and education publishers in the United States on matters of law and policy, including large, small, commercial, and not-for-profit houses. Our principal mission is to advocate for outcomes that incentivize and protect the publication of creative expression, professional content, and learning solutions in the modern world. More information is available at www.publishers.org.

Applications

Expressions of interest will be accepted until the position is filled and may be sent confidentially to HR@publishers.org. Please put "Director/Senior Director/Vice President of Communications" in the subject line of all communications.

AAP values the array of talents and perspectives that a diverse workforce brings. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, national origin, religion, age, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, or protected veteran status. We offer a competitive and comprehensive compensation and benefits package, including generous vacation; medical, dental, and vision insurance; a matching retirement plan; and telework program.

Posting. Effective January 5, 2022
